

IPI Co Ltd in Seoul, South Korea signs an agreement to distribute Minesoft's patent products

London, November 24th, 2008: IPI Co Ltd in South Korea has signed a representation agreement with Minesoft Ltd, UK, one of Europe's leading patent solutions providers. Since 1996, Minesoft has been developing patent information services and solutions, linking technical, legal, bibliographic and full text patent information for patent professionals and research specialists.

Under the terms of the agreement, IPI Korea will represent leading patent information and document delivery solutions: PatBase; PatentOrder, Patent Tracker and PatentArchive.

IPI's special strength lies in its technical expertise in several sectors such as chemistry, biochemistry, biotech engineering, environment, materials & medicine. As a main contractor with KIPI (The Korean Institute of Patent Information) in the KPA (Korean Patent Abstracts) project for several years, IPI has developed further expertise in Patent Translations, having won quality awards for the best contractor to KIPI several times.

PatBase, co-developed by Minesoft and RWS Group, is a fast growing searchable patent database worldwide. PatBase organises patent data into patent families so patent professionals can discover quickly where in the world an invention has been protected and can search technology topics and company activities worldwide. PatBase is enhanced with document delivery, competitive intelligence and legal services as well as with VizPat, an advanced statistical analysis toolset for patent analysis.
